Reviews

This type of publication is every thing and helped me seeking ahead and much more. It usually fails to charge too much. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

REGIONAL INTEGRATION IN NORTHEAST ASIA : ASSESSING CONDITIONS

VDM Verlag Mai 2008, 2008. Taschenbuch. Condition: Neu. This item is printed on demand - Print on Demand
Neuware - Northeast Asia, which consists of Japan, the Koreas, Mongolia, China and Russia, is the least integrated region in the world. However, there is a lot of speculation that current turbulent circumstances are spurring greater cooperation and integration in this divided region. China's emergence as the major economic power and global player in world politics is the main significant motor that is changing the status quo. The study argues that the region has become more prone to regional integration now and aims to analyze the background conditions for regional integration present. The theory of neofunctionalism is used to identify the basic conditions for regional integration and, in relation to it, the factors that were hindering the regional projects previously would be looked at. I contend that the obstacles impeding regional integration have become fewer, while motives for integration increased, thus fueling the talks about the breakthrough in regionalism in Northeast Asia. Nevertheless, there is still not enough political and elite will among the countries to initiate closer regional ties, which constitute the main hindrance for regional integration for now. 60 pp. Englisch.
