Manhattan Review. Paperback. Condition: New. 194 pages. Dimensions: 11.0in. x 8.5in. x 0.5in. The Integrated Reasoning (IR) section is a challenge for all who take the Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT). Manhattan Review has created the only book on the market that discusses in detail all possible argument types that appear on the test. In this book, you will find your advantage with our step-by-step approach to tackling all IR question types: table analysis (TA), graphics interpretation (GI), two-part analysis, and multi-source reasoning (MSR) questions. It includes complete and challenging training sets, as well as more than 50 representative IR practice questions covering the complete range of what you most need to be prepared for. We emphasize a logical deduction approach, enabling you to dissect and understand every question from its core. In short, this book represents the best possible preparation available for the Integrated Reasoning section of the GMAT. About the Series: The Turbocharge Your GMAT Series is designed to be clear and comprehensive. Since its conception in 1999, it is considered the gold-standard in GMAT prep. The complete series is designed to be your best GMAT test prep companion as you navigate the road to a successful outcome. Manhattan Review has created these guides to lead you through the complexities of the examination and achieve your best possible result. As so many students before you have discovered, our books break down the different test sections in a careful, clear manner and zero in on exactly what you need to know to raise your score! About the Author: Professor Joern Meissner, the founder and chairman of Manhattan Review has over twenty-five years of teaching experience in undergraduate and graduate programs at prestigious business schools in the USA, UK and Germany.
